Dear Minister

CONSULTATION ON UNREGULATED PROVISION – CHILDREN IN CARE

We write to urge you to publish accessible versions of your department's proposals for regulating semi-independent and independent accommodation for children in care, and ask that you make public your plans to hear from those most directly affected – care experienced children and young people – during the consultation process. The consultation period is shorter than usual (8 weeks), and we request that you extend this so that, once accessible versions are available, there is a further 12-week period to allow for meaningful and direct engagement with children and young people who are currently looked after by local authorities, or who are seeking and/or eligible to be looked after.

The proposals in the consultation document mark a radical shift in the care system, for the first time regulating the absence of care for potentially thousands of looked after 16 and 17 year-olds. It is vital that children and young people's perspectives and experiences are understood and given due weight in this very significant policy development.

We further call on you to suspend the elements of Sir Alan Wood's Task and Finish Group which directly relate to the outcomes of the consultation, that is helping to draft new standards for semi-independent and independent accommodation and providing advice to your department on what should be taken account of when considering the implementation of the consultation proposals. These are tasks properly undertaken once the consultation process has concluded.

All good wishes
